Curry county is ranked 27th by size/population, but we have consistently ranked 1st, 2nd, or 4th in suicides per capita in the state. - ii. Meeting with Governor and Wild-Rivers Coast Alliance; they want to do a fire training project in Port Orford.

- v. Email Workshop: Server is getting full of emails; we will schedule a workshop to work on email storage.
- vi. Irrigation Credits: No written policy for irrigation meters, we need consensus to establish what to do. Issues with the way it was previously done; one instance of receiving a larger credit than the bill associated with it. By Consensus staff directed to work with public works to draft new policy for proposal.
- vii. BOEM: Councilor Webb; originally 3 proposed spaces for offshore wind, but got them to remove 1 of them.
- viii. Sidewalks/Curbs: Plans that originally filed from ODOT have been found and are available for the Council to review if they would like. Councilors are concerned with the size of the Sidewalks and Curbs.
- ix. League of Women voters would like CA Huttl to speak on the water situation at an upcoming meeting; CA Huttl would direction.

b. Finance

i. None; David Johnson will be providing them starting next month.

c. Public Works

 came into compliance within the set period. The Commission also recommends removing the word "renewed" from section 040 (c) from the proposed code.
- Edified the Council that the Planning Director (CA Huttl) has assumed the responsibility of approving minor partitions; this is allowed in our code, but the Planning Commission had been handling the during administration changes.
- 4. CA Huttl reviews the policy of Planning Approval and clarifies the distinction between having approval for hook-up and actually being hooked up.
- 5. Chairman Thelen would like a provision in place to make Building Permits approved by County to come back to the City for a second review and final approval. And another provision allowing citizens to pay for water hook ups during the curtailment and not hook up until after the curtailment ends.

SUBJECT: Emergency Response Commission

Summary

After Council communication, staff discussed options with councilman Burns and drafted an ordinance codifying the City's Emergency Response Commission and clarifying its membership.

Discussion

The City had in the past appointed members to an Emergency Response Commission. This Commission was not created by Ordinance as with our Parks Commission and Planning Commission. After discussion with the Council, staff surmised that membership should be clarified, and that the Commission should be codified.

The ordinance before the Council proposes to have membership in this Commission a blend of Citizens of Port Orford, but also of residents in our neighboring districts. These stakeholder members are anticipated to deliver perspective and resources in addition to those of the members within the city limits. Because members living within the boundaries of the Port District and the Rural Fire District may also live in the City limits and the City Urban Growth boundary, a member may live in multiple geographic qualifying areas, but only fill a requirement of a single position.

It is possible that during an emergency, the City of Port Orford will find itself having to respond before assistance from other agencies can be obtained. Therefore, this Commission will serve a valuable function for the citizens.

Recommendation

Adopt ordinance; amend as determined in best interest of City; forward to a second reading.

Respectfully submitted,

John Huttl, City Administrator

SUBJECT: Appoint Joseph Harrison as City Recorder, pro-tem

Summary

Joseph Harrison has been acting as City Recorder for a considerable amount of time.

Background

Joseph Harrison was hired as an accountant, but was put into use doing "other duties as assigned."

It appears that during Jessica Ginsburg's tenure, she acted as City Recorder, per the job description of City Administrator.

During the transition from Ginsburg to the undersigned, Harrison was assigned the task of City Recorder, who ratifies council ordinances and resolutions, and prepares minutes, and agendas.

However, the duty to assign a City Recorder is that of the Common Council, and it does not appear the Common Council has ever so appointed Harrison to that role.

Recommendation

In such a case, it is appropriate for the Common Council to appoint Harrison to the role of City Recorder pro-tem, and also to ratify his past actions in this respect.

Further, because Harrison has been performing duties outside his job description, the resolution also grants him recognition of working out of class, back-dated to his hire approximately seven months ago, and continuing into the future until such time as his job description is formally adopted by the City Council to correctly describe and compensate his role.

Respectfully submitted,
